

Proverbial Thought is a collection of commentary and personal reflection on the wisdom of each and every individual proverb through the entire book of Proverbs. However, the commentary and personal reflection contained in this work are in no way exhaustive. For that matter, even if we were to attempt to plumb the depths of Proverbs, "the world itself could not contain the books that should be written" (John 21:25). It is up to you, the reader, how to use this book (and the ones to follow). You could use it as a devotional, reading an entry a day as you seek to start your day in the wisdom of the Lord. You could use it as an additional commentary as you study God's Word for a lesson or sermon. You could even use it to gain insight into that occasionally difficult passage that has you stumped. But no matter how you use it, always make sure to first ask the Holy Spirit for enlightenment when you study Scripture. For the sake of continuity, the Authorized Version (KJV) of the Bible is used as the main text in each entry. However, contributors to Proverbial Thought were given the option to include additional versions where appropriate. The following volume contains the personal reflections of six people: Anthony Baker (U.S.A.) " Husband, dad, preacher, musician. Loves coffee, good movies, and sarcastic humor. Graduate of Temple Baptist Seminary and Covington Theological Seminary. Senior Pastor, Riverside Baptist Church. Most importantly, a humble servant of the Lord Jesus Christ. All glory belongs to Him.. David Welford (U.K.) - Husband to Marilyn for 34 years. Proud of our five children, daughters-in-law, and two grandsons. Regular contributor to Ebs and Flows, the blog of our eldest son, Nick. My prayer is that all my children, daughters-in-law and grandchildren would know more of God than I do, and sooner. Daniel Klem (U.S.A.) - I am a product of the 80s (meaning I was born in that decade) and married to the most beautiful woman I know since 2009 (beautiful in appearance and as a woman of God). I graduated in the spring of 2013 from Grand Canyon University with a Christian Leadership major, and now I am a student at Phoenix Seminary. Also, most importantly, Jesus saved me ... and you. Jason Sneed (U.S.A.) - Husband, father, worship leader but most of all a God follower! Graduated from Tennessee Temple University / I have the privilege to lead people to worship our Lord and Savior every week! Grady Davidson (U.S.A) " Husband, father, and pastor of the Evangelical Presbyterian Church, serving at Lookout Valley Presbyterian Church, Chattanooga TN, since 2002. Grady's life verse is Habakkuk 2:14, For the earth will be filled with the knowledge of the glory of the LORD, as the waters cover the sea. Amen! Ken Welford (U.K.) - Ken served as a Baptist Minister from 1956-1978. He was subsequently employed by The Leprosy Mission and The Far Eastern Broadcasting Association (FEBA). Although he retired in 1996 Ken continues to preach in his local Methodist circuit in the coastal town of Teignmouth in the UK. In later volumes, Nick Welford (U.K.), Chris Jordan (Canada), and Katie Baker (U.S.A) will lend their "thoughts."
